

Disclaimer

This white paper should not be viewed as investment advice or as a financial recommendation regarding any particular security or course of action. There is no guarantee that the Vitalum project will achieve the projected results under market conditions that are uncertain and subject to change.

Vitalum Token is a utility token and has not been registered under the Securities Act, the securities laws of any state of the United States, or the securities laws of any other country, including the securities laws of any jurisdiction in which a potential token holder is a resident. Vitalum Tokens cannot be used for any purposes other than those provided in the white paper, including, but not limited to, any investment, speculation, or other financial goals.

The Vitalum Token cannot be used for any other purposes than those listed in the white paper, in particular for investment, speculation, and other financial transactions. The Vitalum Token is not intended for sale or use in jurisdictions where the sale or use of digital tokens may be prohibited.

Vitalum is not an investment product, but a tool for accessing medical and technology services at discounted prices compared to those available using fiat money. The Vitalum project team is not promising any future profit or gain from the purchase of tokens. The project's crowdsale is not a public offering of securities, and it should not be subject to corresponding regulatory requirements. However, Vitalum may be subject to current or future local and global regulations, for example, local taxation, income or capital gain taxes, and other forms of tax.
